

Whytock Family Missionary Prayer Letter

Christmas, 2008

Dear Friends,

Praise the Lord that the Saviour has come and that He is drawing many from the nations of the earth to Himself! How blessed we have been in 2008 to have shared in this globally gathered community through fellowship, worship, teaching and discipleship. Thank you for being part of the “team” to make this a reality.

As part of World Witness’ MT3, our world included teaching ministry in Suriname, South America, as well as East and South Africa in 2008. Since MT3 has now been in place for several years, the partner colleges are increasingly becoming like part of the family and it truly is enriching. As I have updated you on that part of our family in 2008 through electronic letters, missionary letters, written updates in The ARP Magazine and Lovelines, I want to briefly give an update on the Whytock nuclear family as 2008 draws to a close.

Nancy was busy in 2008 teaching ESL to Korean students and assisting me with editing and on-site co-ordination here on PEI, not to mention all of the family tasks. A highlight in 2008 was when she joined me in the Maasailands where she taught the women.

Our eldest son, Ian, is in his second year (sophomore) at the University of King’s College, Halifax. He is moving more into history there and also serves on Student Council and the Board of Governors.

Our second son, Alistair, became a freshman at Kuyper College, Grand Rapids, Michigan in August. He is in the collaborative programme with Cornerstone University. We all enjoyed being together in June for his Grade 12 graduation from Grace Christian School here on PEI.

Number three, Andrew, is in Grade 11 (junior) at Grace Christian School and this fall got his beginner’s driver’s license. Nancy and I enjoy having a new chauffeur after losing the other two following the completion of their summer jobs here on the Island.

Janet is now in Grade 9 (freshman) at Grace Christian School and this fall started work on the Duke of Edinburgh programme. She is now as tall (taller?!) than her mother. We were thankful to have Janet accompany us to Grand Rapids in August to take Alistair. She was a brick of stability as Nancy and I cried leaving Michigan!

All of the Whytocks join together in wishing you a very joyous Christmas. We thank you for your part in our lives and for your support, prayers and love in the work of World Witness’ Mobile Theological Training Team.

Yours in Good News,

*Jack & Nancy Whytock
Ian, Alistair, Andrew & Janet*

For your own personal prayer time.
